DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I, claims 1-17, 26-33, 36 and 37, in the reply filed on 4/26/2004 is acknowledged.
2. Claims 18-25, 34 and 35 have been withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 4/26/2004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-14, 26 and 36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rudolph (4,815,960: figure, column 1, lines 19-22, and column 1, line 45 to column 2, line 3).

Rudolph teaches a mold for forming blow molded articles having a variety of lengths comprising: a first mold piece (1) having a first internal chamber defined in part by a first internal molding surface configured to form a first exterior surface of a first section of a molded article formed in the mold, and a second mold piece (20), at least in part slidably disposed within a portion of the first mold piece (1), having a second internal chamber (22) configured to form a second exterior surface of a second section of a molded article. The second mold piece (20) is adjusted and locked in place by thread (26) of spindle (25) and adjustment nut (27). The language for forming inflatable members is intended usage, which does not distinguish the mold of Rudolph from that as claimed in claims 1-14, 26 and 36.

Art Unit: 1722

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 27-33 and 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Austin (6,360,577: figures 12 and 13; and column 8, line 54 to column 9, line 50) taken together with Rudolph.

Austin discloses a blow mold for forming an inflatable balloon for a catheter wherein the end mold members (193) are adjustably mounted to allow for molding adjustable lengths of balloons. The reference does not explicitly describe the end member slidably arranged within an outer mold.

Rudolph discloses a blow mold having an adjustable mold (20) slidably received in an outer mold (1) to form an adjustable length of an article.

It would have been obvious at the time of the invention to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the apparatus of Austin by using an adjustable inner mold in relation to an outer mold as disclosed by Rudolph for the purpose of forming adjustable lengths of products due to a seamless transition between the inner mold and the outer mold.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 15-17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

9. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: None of the prior art teach or suggest an adjustable mold as claimed in claim 1 for forming an inflatable member wherein the first internal chamber has a lobed cross-sectional shape. In regards to claims 16 and 17, none of the prior art of record teach or suggest an adjustable mold as claimed in claims 1 or 7, respectively, wherein the mold has detachable extension shafts to operably connect the first and second mold pieces to a blow molding machine.

Art Unit: 1722

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The remaining references show the state of the art in blow molds for forming inflatable members.
